AUTHORIZATION OF DESIGNATED TRADER (AGENT)

Special Statement for Uncovered Options Writers

There are special risks associated with uncovered options writing which expose the investor to potentially significant loss. Therefore, this type of strategy may not be suitable for all customers approved for options transactions.

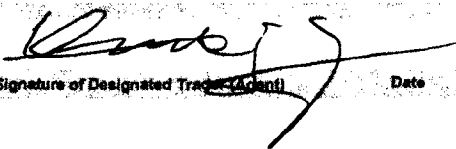

- The potential loss of uncovered call writing is unlimited. The writer of an uncovered call is in an extremely risky position, and may incur large losses if the value of the underlying instrument increases above the exercise price.
- As with writing uncovered calls, the risk of writing uncovered put options is substantial. The writer of an uncovered put option bears a risk of loss if the value of the underlying instrument declines below the exercise price. Such loss could be substantial if there is a significant decline in the value of the underlying instrument.
- Uncovered options writing is thus suitable only for the knowledgeable investor who understands the risks, has the financial capacity and willingness to incur potentially substantial losses, and has sufficient liquid assets to meet applicable margin requirements. In this regard, if the value of the underlying instrument moves against an uncovered writer's options position, the investor's broker may request significant additional margin payments. If an investor does not make such margin payments, the broker may liquidate stock or options positions in the investor's account with little or no prior notice in accordance with the investor's margin agreement.
- For combination writing, where the investor writes both a put and a call on the same underlying instrument, the potential risk is unlimited.
- If a secondary market in options were to become unavailable, investors could not engage in closing transactions, and an options writer would remain obligated until expiration or assignment.
- The writer of an American-style option is subject to being assigned an exercise at any time after he has written the option until the option expires. By contrast, the writer of a European-style option is subject to exercise assignment only during the exercise period.

It is expected that you read the Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options booklet, which we have provided to you and can be found at www.etrade.com/optionsagree. In particular, please direct your attention to the chapter entitled Principal Risks of Options Positions. This statement is not intended to enumerate all of the risk entailed in writing uncovered options.

I agree not to enter into any options transactions until I have received, read, and understood the disclosure document entitled Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options, which can be found at www.etrade.com/optionsagree. We will also mail you a copy of this document. I am aware of the special risks and obligations of options trading. I have read, understood, and agree to be bound by the E*TRADE Securities options trading terms and conditions outlined in the E*TRADE Securities Customer Agreement, which can be found at www.etrade.com/custagree. I also agree that I am bound by it as it is currently in effect and as it is amended from time to time.

I authorize E*TRADE Securities LLC to inquire from any source, including a consumer reporting agency, as to my identity. I understand the investment objectives and trading plans of the Account Holder and will design the trading strategies to meet those objectives. I certify that all the above information provided is true.

I UNDERSTAND THAT THIS ACCOUNT IS GOVERNED BY A PREDISPUTE ARBITRATION CLAUSE. I acknowledge that I have received and read a copy of the Customer Agreement which contains a pre-dispute Arbitration Agreement at Section 8.

AUTHORIZATION OF ACCOUNT HOLDER(S)

Duration of Options Authorization and Applicable Law

This authorization is a continuing one and shall remain in full force and effect until E*TRADE Securities LLC is notified in writing of death, disability, or incapacity of the Account Holder(s) or unless revoked through written notice delivered to E*TRADE Securities. Such revocation, however, shall not affect any prior liability in any way resulting from any transactions initiated before receipt of the revocation. Furthermore, it is understood this authorization and indemnity is in addition to and in no way restricts any rights which may exist at law or under any other agreement(s) between the Account Holder(s) and E*TRADE Securities. This authorization and indemnity shall be construed, administered, and enforced according to the laws of the State of New York and shall insure to the benefit of E*TRADE Securities and of any successor firm or firms irrespective of any change(s) at any time in the personnel thereof for any cause whatsoever, and to the benefit of the affiliates and the assigns of E*TRADE Securities or any successor firm.

Effect of this Power

The person(s) specified in Section 2 above is/are hereby authorized as the agent(s) of the Account Holder(s) and attorney in fact (the "Designated Trader") to purchase and/or sell option contracts for and at the risk of the Account Holder(s) account specified in Section 1. All orders and transactions will be governed by the terms and conditions of all other account agreements applicable to the account of the Account Holder(s). The Designated Trader may open new options positions or close existing positions, and exercise options contracts or sell options contracts as either a covered or uncovered writer; however, by authorizing the Designated Trader to engage in either margin or options transactions through execution of this form for Account Holder(s)' account, the Account Holder(s) recognizes the additional inherent risks involved and is fully prepared financially to undertake such risks.

The Designated Trader may inquire about and trade in the Account Holder(s)' account and E*TRADE Securities is authorized to follow the instructions of the Designated Trader. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary stated herein, the Designated Trader may not engage in any transaction for which the account has not been approved. E*TRADE Securities shall assume no responsibility for reviewing or monitoring any investment decision or activity of the Designated Trader. The Account Holder(s) (i) permits the Designated Trader to engage in options transactions if the account has been approved for such transactions; (ii) understands that options may be traded with a greater degree of frequency than stocks or bonds due to their short-term nature; and (iii) further understands that a commission will be charged to the account each time a transaction occurs. The Account Holder(s) hereby agrees to indemnify and hold E*TRADE Securities harmless from, and to pay E*TRADE Securities promptly upon demand for, any and all losses or financial obligations which may arise from the act or omissions of the Designated Trader with respect to the account.

Actions taken in the account by the Designated Trader may cause the Account Holder(s) to incur specific tax consequences.

All Account Holder(s) are equally responsible for monitoring the activities of the account listed at the top of the application.

It is understood and agreed that this agreement gives someone other than Account Holder(s) authorization to trade in the account and to perform such functions as described herein. In its sole discretion and for whatever reason, E*TRADE Securities LLC may request additional documentation from Account Holder(s) prior to executing any transaction requested by a Designated Trader. If the Designated Trader wishes to engage E*TRADE Securities as broker/dealer to purchase or sell securities and other products, E*TRADE Securities is hereby authorized to accept the instructions of the Designated Trader on Account Holder(s)' behalf. This authorization shall be applicable to all assets Account Holder(s) held in the account referenced in Section 1 with E*TRADE Securities. E*TRADE Securities will add the Designated Trader identified in Section 2 to the account identified at the top of the application. For further information regarding options trading, please read the Special Statement for Uncovered Options Writers. Account Holder(s) hereby acknowledges that Account Holder(s) has read, understands and agrees to the terms and conditions set forth in all sections above.

5. MARGIN DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

Note: As a reminder, account holders requesting Level 3 or 4 upgrade for non-IRA accounts will need to read and sign the margin disclosure statement

Margin Disclosure Statement. E*TRADE Securities LLC and its clearing broker, E*TRADE Clearing LLC, are furnishing this statement to you to provide some basic facts about purchasing securities on margin and to alert you to the risks involved with trading securities in a margin account. Before trading stocks in a margin account, you should carefully review the margin agreement provided by us. Contact E*TRADE Securities regarding any questions or concerns you may have with your margin account(s). When you purchase securities, you may pay for the securities in full or you may borrow part of the purchase price from your brokerage firm. If you choose to borrow funds from your firm, you will open a margin account with the firm. The securities purchased are the firm's collateral for the loan to you. If the securities in your account decline in value, so does the value of the collateral supporting your loan, and as a result the firm can take action, such as issue a margin call and/or sell securities in your account, to maintain the required equity in the account.

It is important that you fully understand the risks involved in trading securities on margin. These risks include the following.

You can lose more funds than you deposit in the margin account. A decline in the value of securities that are purchased on margin may require you to provide additional funds to the firm.

The firm can force the sale of securities in your account. If the equity in your account falls below the maintenance margin requirements under the law or the firm's higher "house" requirements, the firm can sell the securities in your account to cover the margin deficiency. You will be responsible for any shortfall in the account after such a sale.

The firm can sell your securities without contacting you. Some investors mistakenly believe that a firm must contact them for a margin call to be valid and that the firm cannot liquidate securities in their accounts to meet the call unless the firm has contacted them first. This is not the case. Most firms will attempt to notify their customers of margin calls, but they are not required to do so. However, even if a firm has contacted a customer and provided a specific date by which the customer can meet a margin call, the firm can still take necessary steps to protect its financial interests, including immediately selling the securities without notice to the customer.

You are not entitled to choose which security in your margin account is liquidated or sold to meet a margin call. Because the securities are collateral for the margin loan, the firm has the right to decide which security to sell to protect its interests.

The firm can increase its "house" maintenance margin requirements at any time and is not required to provide you with advance written notice. These changes in firm policy often take effect immediately and may result in the issuance of a maintenance margin call. Your failure to satisfy the call may cause the firm to liquidate or sell securities in your account.

You are not entitled to an extension of time on a margin call. Although an extension of time to meet margin requirements may be available to customers under certain conditions, a customer does not have a right to an extension.

I understand that my account, if approved, will be upgraded to a margin account. I acknowledge that securities held in my margin account may be pledged, repledged, hypothecated, or rehypothecated for any amount due E*TRADE Clearing in my account(s) or for a greater amount which E*TRADE Clearing, at its sole discretion, may deem necessary.
